The e-retail business event

An extremely important event for the electronic retail sector, E-Commerce Paris from 12th September - 14th September this year will yet again be the confluence of industry stakeholders.

The event will be held during the Paris Retail Week. With representatives from 1000 companies and close to 50,000 visitors expected, this global event at the Paris Expo Porte de Versailles is likely to be a perfect mix of an exhibition and conferences.

The complete interlinked value chain for commerce will be represented with detailed offerings in cross-channel technology, customer experience, digital marketing and logistics.
