

In-house Banking: The Ultimate Treasury Centralisation Model

published on 06.06.2016

At the 2016 edition of the Cash Management University, one of the Open Stage workshops featured Raffi Basmadjian, Deputy Treasurer of Orange, who is wellknown across the treasury profession for the pioneering approach that he and his team have taken towards centralisation and optimisation of liquidity and risk. This article provides an excellent summary on how in-house banks can support groups at regional or global levels.
